Documents to be used in a country that is a party of the Hague Convention must request the apostille from the Secretary of State where the document was executed. This apostille certification then eliminates the need to send the document to the US Department of State. Once an individual receives and apostille on a document and the document is going to be used in the Hague Convention country, the document is ready for that country.

The following is a list of the countries and territories, which are a party to the Convention:

Argentina Reunion Armenia Affars and the Issas Dijbouti Australia Anglo-French Austria Anglo-French Condominium of the New Herbrides Bahamas (Vanuatu) Belize French Polynesia New Caledonia St. Pierre and Wallis and French Polynesia Austria Anglo-Bere and Wallis and French Polynesia St. Pierre and Wallis and Futuna Bosnia and Hercegovina Miquelon Bulgaria Germany Scotland Montserrat Comomonwealth of Independent States Belarus Russia Commonwealth of Independent States Belarus Russia Croatia Latvia Marshall Islands Mauritius Materia Marchalles (Cayman Islands Potherlands Antilles (Cayman Islands Potherlands Antilles (Aruba) Falkland Islands Cayman Islands Norway Gibrattar Gibert and Ellice Islands (Kiribati) Falkland Islands Protectorate (Solomon Islands Netherlands Mauritius Netherlands Antilles Netherlands Antilles Norway Gibrattar Gibert and Ellice Islands (Kiribati) Romania Hong Kong Isle of Man Jersey Montserrat Montserrat Hong Kong Isle of Man Jersey New Hebrides (Vanuatu) Saint Helena Saint Helena Saint Helena Saint Christopher and Nevis Saint Lucia Sain	Antigua and Barbuda	Guadeloupe	Macedonia	British Guiana (Guyana)
